Dear Dr. Jagadanand Jha,

Greetings from Internshala Trainings.

With the slow-moving vaccination, it is likely that the academic activities for many colleges might get extended over the summer period. Thus, making it difficult for most college students to plan out their industry-training activities.

To help all your students find in-demand trainings that can be completed by spending 1-2 hours per day along with college academics, we have launched the End of Season Sale where they can now register for our certified online trainings in 35+ in-demand fields like programming, data science, business communication, marketing, design, among others and avail the following benefits -

1. Build hands-on projects through experiential learning
2. Earn a certificate of training by solving all the assignments and quizzes
3. Get free placement preparation training and ace your campus interviews

Visit here to register - internshala.com/i/EOSS-DB52852 and get the training for flat 80% off at INR 999/-

Eligibility - All students (first year to final year) from any branch/stream are eligible to enroll for our trainings based on their interest. The last date to register is 31st January 2021.

Kindly share this vital information with all your students and have it circulated among all your college faculties, and student coordinators to ensure maximum participation.

For any queries, students can use our help center here.

Many thanks,
